Thibaut Fourniols

Biotherapies &
Nanomedicines

Project interim manager

Who are you?

Thibaut Fourniols is a freelance in interim project management for biotechnology start-ups and CDMOs.

He combines a strong biomedical expertise (PharmD/PhD/Ecole de l'INSERM) focused on nano- & biotherapies with a commitment to human relations with all stakeholders, particularly customer relations.

What is your expertise?

After a PhD in nanomedicines for tumor microenvironment therapy, TF managed during 4 years R&D projects in the exosome/secretome field as a customer project & account manager. His expertise include in vitro/in vivo models, QC analytics, clinical translation, downstream processing, or OMICS.

What are your key products or services?

In interim management, Thibaut works on complex projects that lack internal human resources. With his background and his professional network of experts, he provides critical perspective and implement solutions!
